April 14, 2010

To:

International Burmese democratic forces and friends of Burma who would love to see Burma as a free democratic country.

Subject: Invitation of International Burma Democratic Conference for Abolishing Military Dictatorship.

1. International Burma Democratic Conference for Abolishing Military Dictatorship will be held in Buffalo, New York, United States of America on May 22-23, 2010.
2. The conference will be held for following aims and objectives:
 - a) To lay out common strategies collectively by the democratic forces inside Burma and abroad for fighting against a sham 2010 Election based on an undemocratic 2008 Constitution.
 - b) To discuss intensively and draw effective strategies and policies by finding common grounds and reaching agreements to fight against the military dictatorship.
 - c) To promote democracy and equal rights and self determination for all ethnic nationalities, to establish a federated state and to progress national reconciliation process.
 - d) To prepare collectively for establishing a solid functional foundation reflecting national characteristics.
 - e) To strengthen and adhere to accomplish six political objectives adopted by the Strategic Conference of the Burma Democratic Forces to Abolish Military Dictatorship held on July 3 - 4, 2009.
 - f) To promote and shape up the emergence of capable leadership and a collective leading core group to fulfill political objectives and policies adopted at the upcoming conference.
3. We are committed to call this conference for above aims and objectives and you are cordially invited to participate and contribute your leadership for the sake of the citizen of Burma who are suffering under military dictatorship almost a half century.
